

How to book

You can purchase tour tickets from our website www.positivelybirmingham.co.uk
Many of our tours are also available to book on Tripadvisor. Please note: Tours are sometimes fully booked. Always pre-book to avoid disappointment.

Private Tours

Our walks are ideal for educational visits, teambuilding events, staff induction, city familiarisation and group visits to Birmingham. Timings and tour content can be tailored to your requirements. Indicative prices for private tours are published on our website. However, if you contact us with your detailed requirements we will provide a quotation and suggested itinerary.

Audio and translation systems

We use live audio on many tours, ensuring you can hear the guide clearly all the time. This is especially useful for larger groups and those with impaired hearing. We sometimes use the Travis artificial intelligence translation system – ideal for groups requiring translation into a single language.

Our books

The tours have evolved from our exploratory books of the city which have been best-sellers since the 1990s.

Positively Birmingham: A coffee-table book of photography by Jonathan Berg is 'one inquisitive citizen's look at the modern city'.

Discovering Birmingham: A guide full of things to see and do. Includes a city centre map.
